Cayley Skating Rink

Brilliant Scene at the Opening Ceremonies—Lord Mayor and Corporation in Full Regalia—Amid a Fanfare of Trumpets the Rink Opened.

Under very favorable auspices the Cayley skating rink was officially opened by the Lord Mayor and corporation on Thursday evening, accompanied and surrounded by the village band, and the utter of the black red-petals following in the rear all clothed in their official regalia, the Lord Mayor wearing, in addition to his official robe and chain, the great seal of the high and mighty Timbuctoo. The ladies —God bless 'em!

were also out in large numbers, dressed in superb and costly costumes and looked charming as they flitted hither and thither in the twinkling star-light—even the man-in-the-moon smiling with envious eyes upon the dazzling array of beauty beneath him.

After a few preliminary and felicitous remarks from the Lord Mayor, and amid a grand fanfare of trumpets, preceded by a catchy fantasia by Sandy on the bagpipes, the rink was declared open.
And then—oh! but you should have been there and seen the grand and never-to-be-forgotten-get-away of the crowds of skaters.
Which ever way one looked were to be seen skaters of all sizes—from the little 'uns to the big 'uns; some just plain skaters and others cutting all kinds of fancy figures and gymnastics. Perhaps among some of the most experienced fancy skaters were Brewster and Jack McKee. They were the wonder and envy of the whole crowd for some time. They were last seen something like this, one trying to hang on to the stars and between the ice spot where he went down. Then there was Sandy

looking carefully for a nice spot to sit down on as one of his skates went from under him.

The dashing young postmaster was also another of those talented gymnastic performers, cutting the figure 8 in company of eight of Cayley's sweet young sisterns.
The frequent hearty greetings of skaters coming in sudden contact with the ice, the thousand and one stars that were seen by several performers, and the shouts of laughter, intermingled with groans, made it a scene that will not easily be forgotten, standing out prominently as one of Cayley's most successful and brilliant occasions. Somehow the skates would slip out the wrong way, and, well, some are sore yet when the cold, cold ice came up and struck 'em. Quite a number "got the habit" of trying to skate sitting down. In the midst of the greatest enthusiasm, the whole crowd was suddenly startled by hearing a tree-mend-us noise, resembling the sickening noise of a mighty avalanche, at the same time the rink shaking to its foundation. With blanched faces and trembling limbs, each skater looked into the "countinghouse" of each other, with a visibig shudder, asking each other in bated breath what terrible thing had happened. Turning with ager-stricken faces to the centre of the rink, oh, horrors, they saw that it was Jack sitting there—and he hasn't been able to sit down since.
But the skating of Sandy was the centre of attraction, and was the envy of the "spected-tatoes" making their eyes water with jealousy as they watched the graceful curves and pothooks, and—oh, ye gods and little fishes, without the slightest warning, out shot one of his feet, down went Sandy with a grand waving of his arms and clutching the air in a frantic effort to save himself from—aw we'll, Sandy no feelin' at all rich s'ia!

Were all the events that took place on that memorable night recorded it would require all the available space in the Hustler for the next few weeks. Suffice it to say that it was one of the most exciting episodes in the history of the village, and will be long remembered by the present generation.

The advent of the skating rink in Cayley has become one of the most popular pastimes yet introduced, and the skating rink has undoubtedly come to stay.

This is one of the fellows who doesn't skate on the Cayley rink.

Watch Your Step

"They give me two days' lay-off last week so I could go to Lizzie's aunt's funeral up in the country, an' I took Lizzie and her mother to it. Believe me, I know my eggs is worth a quart of milk apiece. An' I know why a radish costs more'n it does to shoe a horse. It's them mucky roads.
We got stuck in the mud so much

I thought they'd get aunty under ground—fore we get half way out from where the railroad dumped us to the farm. It's as lief live down in a well as to stay out on a farm with a road to town like a river o' ginger bread mush. I seen more chuck holes and thank-ye-ma'ans 'n I could count. The middle of the road was so low the water couldn't run off and you'd a thought the farmers built it for a sewer. It's them darn roads that's kept the price of farms cheap and made all the farm boys go to the city. That's what made them come. It's no white man's job to squat on a load of alfalfa all day trying to haul it to town and spend half the night gettin' back again. My old man spent forty years on a farm and I'll bet he was stalled in the mud 'tween our house and the junction six or eight years of that time. They's two sense in holding mass meetings hollerin' bout the tariff on potatoes when a good turnpike to town'd save you more bushels of murrhins'n all the tariff'd ever make you. They ought to be a paved road laid down from every place to every other place. I don't see why this commerce commission don't butt in on this road business. Ain't a dirt road running from one state to another just like a railroad? When I was a kid you told a fellow was travel-in' in the country by the mud in his whiskers. If he came a long way it was dry-caked. Now-a-days he gets it on his mud gards.
It's the same old mud. It's a good thing motor cars come to stay. Them big tires made the roads. If they'd pinch these blacksmiths making these meat cutter wagon wheels, quit making them roads caved in the middle, and build 'em like a duck's back, the price of farms 'd go up so fast farmers couldn't count their money, and us city guys'd know how fresh eggs taste again.

PESTS IN GRAIN BINS.

Most Be Killed Before Damage Is Done. A few cents' worth of carbon bisulphide will kill the insects hiding in the grain. From time waiting for the new grain. Insects injurious to stored grain, says G. A. Don, a bug specialist at the Kansas agricultural college, work so vigorously that the farmer must either kill them, dispose of the grain or sit still and allow them to damage it. Killing these pests before the grain is stored prevents most damage in the fall and winter, he says. Dust dirt, rubbish, refuse grain, dirt and meal serve as breeding places for these pests. Fresh grain should not be exposed to attack by being placed in the bin which already is infested. Throw this out. Unless the old grain is badly infested with any one of the four or five common injurious insects it will not be necessary to fumigate now, but a thorough cleaning of the bin, walls and ceiling should not be neglected. To avoid infestation in the place the grain should be thrashed as soon after harvest as possible. Considerable damage has been done by these insects to stacks of wheat and oats in Kansas in the last four or five years.

Stacks of carbon bisulphide when the temperature is about 80 degrees will fumigate 500 cubic feet of space. At 80 degrees 40 cubic feet will be thoroughly treated. The building and bin must be as tight as possible while fumigating. The carbon bisulphide should be placed in a shallow pan on the floor of the bin or building. Evaporation is rapid, vapor settling to the bottom of the bin and poisoning the insects. It is not to be used for more than it is well to allow the vapor to remain in it for 24 hours. Doors and windows should be opened wide after the fumigation and the bins dried thoroughly. One should be very careful in handling carbon bisulphide as it is highly inflammable. Electric lights must not be used, since when turning them on or off there is a danger of producing a spark. It is not safe to have of any kind in the building when the gas is being used in the process.

When this game is played with the new Little Art it is very amusing. The child must find out how his eyes are hidden; he needs them and all his wits besides.

While cloth is hung against the wall in the same way as for magic lantern pictures, the blind man is placed in front of it on a stool high enough to prevent his own shadow from being thrown on the cloth. At some distance behind him, and on a high stand or other suitable support, a single lamp, and all the other things are put out.

When all is ready the person to be tested is called to the front. The light of the lamp throws upon the white cloth a succession of clearly defined shadows.

As the shadows pass before him the blind man is obliged to name after the person whose portrait he imagines he sees in profile, and the mistakes that come much more than the successes have the privilege of changing the appearance as much as possible by weighing, turning, nodding or trying in any way to make himself unrecognizable. Forfeits may be given by the person guessed if desired.

BEFORE THE CAMERA.

The Best Pose, as a Rule, Is the Three-quarter Pose.

Very few people really know how to pose for a photograph. Every one has his weak points, and these, unfortunately, have a way of cropping in a picture and ruining the effect.

Consider a photograph taken by a professional photographer. It is a study in naturalness, but at the same time it is a study in art.

For a full face picture a full face poses the eyes, closed all things. If they are open the pose will be a success, even if the other features are lacking in perfection.

THE FREIGHT RATE ENQUIRY

Further Postponement of Proceedings Before the Railway Board

The enquiry into western freight rates at Ottawa has been postponed, upon the application of the railway companies.

The exhibit laid before the Railway Board consisted of several volumes of figures, some of the best newspaper figures, and it was not until the 15th of the month that the enquiry was held.

The Winnipeg Board of Trade and the Board of Commerce, both of which are interested in the enquiry, are in saying that rates out of Winnipeg have been reduced since 1918.

Sir William Van Horn, president of the Board of Commerce, said that he would diminish as the volume of traffic increased.

A book of 100 pages is devoted to showing the numerous reductions that have been made since then. As regards wheat, for instance, the Canadian Pacific rate from Winnipeg to Lake Superior has been reduced from 24 cents per ton to 17 cents per ton.

It is not the case that rates in the Canadian West are much higher than in the adjacent States as to constitute a serious handicap on the Canadian exporter.

The exhibit goes on to prove that rates in the West are not higher than those in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Wyoming, although the population is greater and traffic more dense.

It was a mistake to assert that rates in the West are higher than in the States controlled by the Canadian Pacific, as the rates in the Canadian Pacific rates in the Canadian West.

The report says it might well be that an American road owned by the Canadian Pacific would be a factor in so much more and more recently popular than the rates in the States.

There is a great deal of talk in the West about rates in the States, but those who enjoy without incurring any loss, and it is not the case that the rates in the States are higher than in the West.

Local News

The grain yield of Alberta in 1912 was 70,000,000 bushels. F. F. Macdonald was a Calgary visitor for a couple of days last week.

Mr. J. Droubiller returned to Cayley this week from his trip to Spokane and B.C.

Knapp—At Cayley, on Monday, Jan. 13th, to Mr. and Mrs. Knapp, a daughter.

The ladies aid of the Methodist church held a pleasant social evening at the parsonage one day last week.

Do you think that Rockefeller's money is tainted? Yes, in two ways it is tainted: taint young, taint mine.

Mr. G. D. McVicar has returned home from his trip to Adia Craig, Ont., where he has been the past few weeks.

The many friends of Mrs. J. W. Bradley will be pleased to learn that she is getting along nicely, although somewhat slow.

The thanks of the skaters are due to Mr. O. G. Walker for the free furnishing and drawing of water for the skating rink.

The new village council for 1913 held its first meeting on Thursday last. Councillor McDonald was elected chairman.

As soon as the weather will permit it is the intention of the Wickens Bros. to commence rebuilding the stores destroyed in the recent fire.

At the meeting of the provincial cabinet on Monday last, Tuesday, February 11th, was fixed upon as the date for the opening of the legislature.

No appeal has yet been entered in the Collard-Armstrong action, the attorneys for Armstrong stating that they have not had sufficient time to prepare the appeal.

Mr. Farmer, now is the time to get that harness repaired and oiled, so as to be ready when the time comes. J. W. Bradley can do the job up slick, and don't you forget it.

Fires have become epidemic during the present month, Nanton, Cayley, Okotoks, and some small places—Calgary and Edmonton, having suffered. Whose turn next?

During this off time of the year it would be just as well to get that harness of yours repaired and oiled at J. W. Bradley's, so as to have them ready. They will be needed very soon now.

As an evidence of the strength of the wind that blew such a gale on Monday last, the roof of a box car, which was standing at the Cayley loading platform, was lifted off the car and thrown some distance from the track.

Kwong Lung is repairing his bakery, which was damaged somewhat by the late fire, and will soon be ready to do his baking as usual. It is his intention of rebuilding his store as soon as the weather will permit.

At the meeting of the Experimental Union in Guelph the other day a former employee of the Ontario Agricultural College told how, by growing vegetables and small fruit, he had made an acre of land return him $425 after supplying his family all season. He then bought one and a half acres more, and secured a few bees. His profit the next season was $2,700. These results were all duly verified. There is no doubt that we have a great deal to learn yet in Canada about the possibilities of intensive farming.

Little Mary's father had denied her a pleasure which she had confidently expected to enjoy. That night, when she said her prayers at her mother's knee, she concluded with this petition: And please don't give my papa any more children. He don't know how to treat those he's got now.

Mr. Chas. Nelson left on Monday morning for Barnesville, Minn., where he intends staying for the summer. Like a sensible man he paid for a year's subscription to the Hustler to be sent to him, as he does not want to miss "that letter from home" every week. Evidently Charlie knows a good thing when he sees it.

The High River creamery, we understand, has done gone busted, leaving some of our farmers minus many dollars due to them. That is, those who have been in charge have got the "cream" of the profits and our farmers the "skim," or, properly speaking, have been "skinned."—Oh, you, creamery! Another case of dealing away from your own town.

The government is again showing its consideration for homesteaders, for instructions have been given to the branches of the Dominion land offices, whereby no homesteader must have his homestead cancelled on him before April 1st, 1913. Any person however, can give notice of cancellation, but no application will be served before that date. This procedure is no doubt due to the great inconvenience, and perhaps suffering, which might be entailed upon a homesteader who, under the land laws, may be compelled to leave his farm during the height of a severe winter.
